JAPANESE KILLED IN MUKDEN

Seven Chinese bandits broke into a pawnshop occupied by a Japanese, Arai Yasujiro, at Mukden, about 7 p.m. on Friday (24th instant). They brutally stabbed the proprietor, who was killed outright, and seriously injured his wife, and made off with ¥ 1,000 in cash. A great sensation has been created there, particularly because the offence was committed at a busy thoroughfare of the city and in daylight.
